DATE OF ISSUE: FEBRUARY 1986 REPLACES PREVIOUS ISSUE

THE KODAK
PROFESSIONAL PORTFOLIO

The Product Range

Kodak offers a complete range of high-quality products for the professional photographer. It includes films, papers, processing chemicals and equipment. The products shown here are those most frequently ordered and in most cases are available from stock. For many products, other sizes and packings can also be supplied if requested. Enquiries are welcome.

Sources of Information

An established feature of Kodak's service to its customers is its readily available back-up resources. If you need technical advice or further information about our products or services, our team of specialists in Professional Sales, to be found at the Kodak Head Office address and telephone number shown below, will be pleased to help. For more local assistance please contact one of the Kodak Sales Centres or regional customer service centres. These are distributed around the country to provide the help and service you need. They supply information on our products and services as well as giving technical advice, and can provide a personal service whether you call, telephone or write. They are also able to contact your Kodak Technical Sales Representative for you quickly if required. Here are their addresses and telephone numbers. Sales Centres and Customer Services have a night recording service.
